Powerful Trade Magnets.

The attractiveness of the values in this "ad" is beyond dispute. The intrinsic worth of every item emphasized is above argument. The price economy is unquestionable. We've chosen reasonable things to tempt you; up-to-date in style, honest in quality. We've chosen just the merchandise that your mind is now on. You are asked to carefully read the chapter of offerings. You are asked to make careful comparison. You are not asked to buy. Your intelligence will prompt you. Your self-interest will decide this to your satisfaction.

Plenty of Material.

The indications are that the voters will have plenty of material to choose from at the next Republican primary. Those mentioned for the various county offices are as follows:

Sheriff—Charles T. Hauck, of Lindsey, and Wallace Curry, of Snyder township.

County Treasurer—Ira J. Campbell, of Punksutawney, W. A. McGee, of Perry township, J. B. Means, of Perry township, and William McIntosh, of Falls Creek.

Register and Recorder—James C. Greene, of Punksutawney, John D. Evans and Gil C. Reitz, of Brookville, and E. C. Burns, of Reynoldsville.

For Prothonotary—Cyrus H. Blood, the present incumbent, is not likely to have any opposition.

Commissioners—J. C. Smith, of Young township, A. F. Reitz, of Beaver township, Harry Haugh, of Union township, and Newton Webster, of Polk township.

The woods are full of good timber for Assembly. Among those whose names are mentioned in connection with this office are: Dr. S. S. Hamilton and Lex N. Mitchell, of Punksutawney; George W. Porter, of Lindsey; Hon. Henry I. Wilson, of Big Run; J. B. Sykes, of Sykesville; William T. Cox, of Reyn-

Cadenza of Life.

We meet at morn with kisses
 To part at night with tears,
 And joys the short day misses
 Are ghosts of after years.
 The gorgeous gleam of roses
 That climbing dawn encloses
 At night in death repose
 Like madness turned to fear

To-day with lips of laughter
 Youth idly jests and plays;
 In years that follow after
 Ace weeps o'er wasted ways.
 No more may we re-measure
 The parted paths of pleasure,
 Nor hope to hold and treasure
 The joys of buried days.

To-day we know not whither
 To-morrow's winds may blow;
 The soil moves on and thither
 Thro' realms of weal and woe—
 Then laugh at pain and sorrow
 And stoop ye not to borrow
 The fears that haunt to-morrow,
 For to-morrow, too, shall go.

Old is the oft told story
 Of things that fall and fade,
 Forgetfulness buries glory
 In oblivion's gloomy shade.

Mr. Ferrin Interested at Clearfield.

A movement has been started during the past month that will mean great things for this section of the State, and especially for our own town. Mr. E. A. Ferrin, whom many of our citizens know, has undertaken the development of several industrial enterprises to be located here in Clearfield and at various other points in this and adjoining counties. A company with large cash capital has been organized by leading New York financiers for the purpose of carrying into effect the plans which Mr. Ferrin has made. We are not at liberty to state at this time what the plans of the company are, but from what we know of them we give welcome to these gentlemen and predict great things for Clearfield from this movement.

We have known Mr. Ferrin personally for several years, and his successful promotions across the mountains speak volumes for the superiority and value of those proposed for Clearfield. The electrical scheme alone will be a great thing for the town.—Clearfield Public Spirit.

Glass Notes.

James Hoy, a blower, had his right hand cut last week.

Will Brooks, a blower, is off duty nursing a felon on his right hand.

Charles Michelbach, the big ring blower, is blowing cylinders that when they are rolled will make sheets large enough to cut lights of glass 58 by 75.

The following preliminary statement of the glass industry during the census year of 1900 has been published by the Census Bureau under date of November 13. For purpose of ready comparison we submit also the figures for 1890 from the report of the late Joseph D. Weeks:

	1890	1900
Number of factories.....	294	355
Capital invested.....	$40,966,850	$61,423,903
Employees.....	44,892	52,318
Wages paid.....	$22,115,522	$30,544,148
Cost of raw materials.....	$12,140,385	$16,731,000
Value of product.....	$41,651,004	$56,838,712
